Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 01 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Very warm with plenty of sunshine for most areas.

Today:
Warm and dry with plenty of sunshine for most. Cloudier with coastal fog in parts of the east at first, this clearing readily inland though persisting on some north-eastern coasts. Cloudier far northwest and possibly some drizzle in the Hebrides.

Tonight:
Misty with low cloud in the northeast, else dry with clear periods for most areas. Increasing risk of thundery showers into the far south-west.

Wednesday:
Very warm with sunny spells, except near north-eastern coasts, whilst cloudier in southern and then central parts of England and Wales with some showers, possibly thundery.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Generally fine and dry for most with some sun, though cloudier in the west with some showery rain. Cooler than earlier in the week, but still warm in the sun.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.